Constructing a Good Search

What you need to know to construct a good search.

Newspaper searches are based on OCR technology – which means they are text searches.

It is more like a google search than a typical search on Ancestry.com or other genealogy site

On Ancestry.com and similar sites when you search in a census, you can identify pieces of data:

- First Name: Otto
- Last Name: Payne
- Birth Date: 1923
- Residence: North Carolina

So on Newspapers.com, you want to search for the name

- Otto
- Payne

For dates, use a lifespan

- 1923 – 2010

And use papers from a place to limit location:

- Residence: North Carolina

Reporters—Editorial Staff—AP War Correspondents (UPI) June 9—(UPI)—Just 24 hours after the last enemy tank rolled past, we reached the city of Rome tonight and found the Germans had left the city in a state of chaos.

As we rode by the Colosseum, we were hearing and seeing the ruins of the city. Yet Rome as a whole is surprisingly little changed at the time we left. It is an ancient city two years and 21 years following the "Fall of Rome" riding into the war.

Allied Troops Retired
The soldiers after our arrival American Stars and Stripes and British Union Jack were flying from the Italian flagposts and the Allied flag was hoisted in the city.

May Place Farley In Nomination

Conservative Democrats Study Plan to Prevent Unanimous Vote for Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(UPI)—A plan to replace James A. Farley's name in the Democratic National Convention for the presidential nomination in opposition to President Roosevelt's fourth term candidacy is under consideration today by conservative Democrats.

Farley's nomination will tend to be chaotic, those among the group maintain. To prevent the President's re-election, but it would prevent nomination within 10 to 15 days, the only method by which anti-Roosevelt Democrats can elect the voters the subject of fourth term opposition within the party, he is urged to resist.

Real Political Power

Continuation committee will see how political drama of Farley is played in convention. Among those

NEW SHUTTLE RAID PROGRAM OPENS

A LARGE FORCE of American planes, inaugurating a shuttle bombing program which opens up the possibility of reaching every target in German-held Europe, landed at new, recently-established bases in the Soviet Union after dropping their mission on targets in Rumania. Although the point of take-off was not disclosed in the first dispatches describing the attack, the planes apparently flew from Rome to Italy. The new Rumanian bases were built, and are manned, by Axis and Soviet crews that worked together for many months. (International)

Girl Practicing on Teletype Machine Sends Invasion Report Message Saturday Afternoon Which Goes All Over World

By United Press
A false invasion report spread that the Allies had landed in France was disseminated in North and South America by that town agency following afternoon and the girl teletype operator whom the Associated Press said was responsible for its erroneous report was confined to her London home today by nervous exhaustion.

Unsettled But Too Late
The message after carrying the dispatch, the Associated Press reported it, but by that time it had been broadcast over hundreds of radio stations. Baseball games in the United States were halted, special prayers were held and the telephone switchboards of newspapers and radio stations were flooded with calls.

KING EMMANUEL RETIRES TODAY IN SON'S FAVOR

APLX—June 8—(UPI)—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy was scheduled to step today certain developments of state believed to transfer the royal power to Crown Prince Umberto.

All signs indicated that when Umberto the king would have formally abdicated his royal power, as he promised April 12 to do when the Allies occupied Rome.

Victor Emmanuel was prepared to sign the document of his abdication, but after this ceremony, it was learned a few hours before the coronation ceremony was scheduled.

The document was scheduled to be signed at the formal coronation of a Roman prince, the Duke of Salaparuta, in whose the king's royal power would be vested, that coronation (Continued on Page 6)

Road out of Rome Jammed for 50 Miles by Pell-Mell Fighting Shows No Indication of Attempt to Regroup and Stand—Russian Front Becomes Active

By ALVIN F. KREML—United Press War Editor
Allied forces completed the occupation of Rome today were driving the disorganized Germans northward from the city to the east and southeast the main body of the 10th Army was in precipitate retreat in a developing battle of annihilation.

An official announcement said resistance in Rome ceased, that leading elements of the Fifth Army had broken through the city and other columns had crossed the Tiber in some places in hot pursuit of the Germans.

The liberation of Rome, hailed by Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark as "a stepping stone towards the complete overthrow of the enemy," was accompanied by a terrible night and day bombardment of Germany's west wall defenses in Rome. London sherrys, the offensive appeared to be mounting up towards the crescent which, from Dnieper, the ROME, June 5.—(AP)—Just 24 hours after the last enemy tank rolled past, we reached the city of Rome tonight and found the Germans had left the city in a state of chaos.

The first sign of the German retreat was the sight of the city's streets, which were now empty except for the Allied troops and their equipment.

NEW SHUTTLE RAID PROGRAM OPENS

A LARGE FORCE of American planes, inaugurating a shuttle bombing program, which opens up the possibility of marking every target in German-held Europe, landed at night, were established bases in the Soviet Union after dropping their machine gun targets in Romania. Although the point of take-off was not disclosed in the first dispatches following the attack, the planes apparently flew from bases in Italy. The new shuttle bombing was hailed, by York and Newark, as a new phase in the war against Germany.

Allied forces completed the occupation of Rome today and were driving the dazed German soldiers northward from the city while to the south and southeast the main body of the enemy's 10th Army was in precipitate retreat in a developing battle of encirclement.

An official announcement said resistance in Rome had ceased, that leading elements of the Fifth Army had passed through the city and other columns had crossed the Tiber River in some places in hot pursuit of the Germans.

The liberation of Rome, hailed by Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark as "a stepping stone towards the complete conquest of Germany," was accompanied by a terrific night and day aerial bombardment of Germany's west wall defenses in Europe. To London observers, the offensive appeared to be mounting swiftly towards the crossroads which form Dnieper. St. Petersburg.

Case Study: Weaving the World into your Story

My grandmother was living in Kings Mountain, NC helping to raise her brothers and sisters.
Her parents had died in the 1920's.

I couldn't find a newspaper for Gastonia or Charlotte, but I did find High Point, NC which is less than a 100 miles away.

That Sunday of December 7th, 1941 was cold, but Monday was expected to be nicer.

The world was concerned about the Russians battle with the Nazi's.

FDR was sending messages to the "Jap Ruler."

The paper was full of peril but it was all somewhere else.

On that cold, clear day, the family no doubt put on their Sunday best and went to church, probably praying for a world seemingly gone mad.

That afternoon, before 1pm on the east coast, the Japanese had begun their attack on Pearl Harbor.

It is easy to imagine families gathered around the radio waiting for information on what had happened, wondering what was coming next. The evening newspaper, (remember when newspapers were published twice a day?) delivered the news:

The paper was full of late bulletins and initial reports.

Was Manila bombed?
How many planes did the Japanese use? Would they attack again? Would the United States declare war?

Imagine waking up that clear cold Sunday morning planning what you would wear to church and going to bed with the knowledge that war had come to America

(By The Associated Press)

Imperial headquarters at Tokyo declared war late today against both the United States and Britain after Japanese bombers had attacked the great Pearl Harbor naval base at Honolulu and the Philippines.

President Roosevelt called an extraordinary meeting of the cabinet for 8:30 p.m. and congressional leaders of both parties have been summoned to join the conference at 9 p. m.

The White House said the President “is assembling all the facts as rapidly as possible and in all probability he will, as quickly as possible, make a full, informative report to Congress, probably in the form of a message.”

President Roosevelt is expected to ask Congress for a declaration of war tomorrow, according to a dispatch from Washington.

By the afternoon of the 8th, with 3,000 casualties, with serious destruction of the Navy, the Senate and the House joined together and voted for the U.S. was at war. There was only one dissenter.

U.S. DECLARES WAR

Swift Action Is Taken By Joint Bodies

Senate Votes Unanimously For War Declaration Shortly After President Asks For Immediate Action; Both Houses Show Greatest Unity With Policy House Votes 388 To 1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Congress voted a formal declaration of war against Japan today after President Roosevelt requested immediate action in an answer to Japan's "unprovoked and dastardly attack" on Hawaii.

A united Congress acted swiftly after the President had revealed that American forces lost two warships and 3,000 men and wounded in the surprise dawn attack yesterday.

The Senate vote was 82 to 0.

The House began its roll call vote at 1:40 p. m. Eastern standard time.

Both branches had just cheered to the echo President Roosevelt's appeal for the declaration.

"I am," the chief executive told a joint session, "that the Congress declare that since the unprovoked and dastardly attack by Japan on Sunday, December 7th, a state of war has existed between the United States and the Japanese Empire."

The President said that yesterday was "a date which will live in infamy."

QUICK ACTION

Within 20 minutes after he finished the Senate had acted.

The momentous debate at the Capitol followed a White House announcement that Japan's sudden attack on Hawaii yesterday had cost the United States two warships and 3,000 dead and wounded.

Standing at the podium of the House chamber, the chief speaker, in a scene such as had not been enacted since 1917, declared that Japanese leaders had "craved access to our Pacific coast and military bases and that 'peace' meant...

Military Action Around Hawaii Is Still Going On; Americans Rally To Defense

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. — The White House disclosed that American forces lost two warships and 3,000 dead and wounded in the Japanese attack on Hawaii.

The White House said that the surprise dawn attack at the Japanese military base in the Hawaiian Islands was the beginning of a new chapter in the history of a democracy, because it offered a new and dramatic picture of a country that was not a power.

It added that several Japanese planes and submarines had been reported to be in the area.

This was presented as a war machine that defied for American troops in the Congress which President Roosevelt was addressing at the War Department at 11:30 a. m.

NEW YORK CITY UNDERGOES TWO AIR ALARMS

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. — (AP) — The great metropolitan area of New York City was put on an air raid alert twice within an hour shortly after noon today amid varying and unconfirmed reports of an imminent attack by hostile planes.

The first alarm sounded at 1:35 P. M. (EST) and the all clear followed 20 minutes later. But at 2:05 P. M. the wailing of police and fire sirens sounded another warning.

A Portland, Me., source which did not want to be named, said at two o'clock that "hostile forces" were an hour outside of Boston.

The small radio beam at the Norfolk, Va., municipal airport was shut down and all Norfolk police were ordered on the alert following a report that enemy planes, possibly headed toward this important defense area, were approaching the Atlantic Coast. Precautionary measures were taken at the Langley Field air base.

The vital Panama Canal underwent a warning, according to a Panamanian broadcast heard in New York by NBC which said Japanese aircraft were reported flying over the Panama coast this morning but no bombs were dropped.

The vast stretch of Long Island from the city to Montauk Point also braced itself for the reported possible attack. A million school children in New York and thousands on Long Island were sent home.

The New York information center on defense said that as far as they knew, there was absolutely no reason for the second alarm and said that the Metropolitan area had been all clear since the previous "all clear" signal was sounded.

Acting on information received from Governor's Island, headquarters of the first army, that hostile planes were reported two hours out of New York at noon (EST) all planes at Mitchell field took to the air and families were evacuated from the military reserve.

tion, although air corps detectors had not confirmed the presence of planes.

Navy guns officers said they had not received a report on any hostile planes. They rushed the news to the office of Admiral Adolphus Andrews, commander of the Third naval district and commander of the North Atlantic coastal frontier, which extends from Hatteras to Halifax.

Andrews was not available for immediate comment. (Continued on page 5.)

By the 9th, those in New York City had been put on alert when two air alarms went off around noon, expecting that they were about to be attacked.

Even in rural North Carolina there was likely a lingering fear that they were not safe.

The Japanese assumed that they would be joined by the Nazi's in their declaration of the war on the U.S.

In a mere 48 hours, daily life, life itself had changed.

Every day newspapers delivered another new screaming headline. By the 10th, Germany and Italy had declared war on the U.S.

MRS. W. H. BAKER

One of the largest at funerals we have attended was held in the Methodist here Monday afternoon o'clock over the remains Miss Ava Payseur, the year-old daughter of Mrs. Boyce R. Payseur, just outside the in-limits of East Kings Mountain.
The funeral services were conducted jointly by Rev.
Cole, pastor of the Kings Mountain Methodist church,
B. A. Culp, pastor of the Methodist church. The was crowded with friends and sympathizers who were visibly touched solemnity of the occasion.
After the funeral the remains were taken to Mountain Rest Cemetery for interment.

Deceased suffered intensely for about two weeks before her death. As was stated in the Harald last week she had laryngitis and tuberculosis of the brain. Every earthly aid was rendered but to no avail.

Out of respect to Ava and the bereaved family, her teacher,
Miss Irma Willeford, principal of East Kings Mountain Graded school, with a group of students attended the funeral in a body.

Deceased is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R.
Payseur, a twin sister, Eve, and two little brothers.

Carl Baxter's Sister Killed In Accident

Mrs. Bertha Baxter Searce, 62, who was killed Monday in a highway accident near Greensboro, was the sister of Carl A. Baxter of Gastonia.

Mrs. Searce and her husband, Eugene Wesley Searce, 62, of Dry Fork, Va., were both fatally injured when their car skidded across a rain-swept highway into the path of an oncoming tractor-trailer, six miles south of Greensboro. Raymond Brown, 38, of Robbins, was operating the tractor, according to highway patrolmen.

men.

The Virginia couple was returning from Asheboro, where they had attended a funeral that day.

A native of Lincoln county, Mrs. Searce was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Baxter.

Besides her brother in Gastonia, she is survived by another brother, Kilgo Baxter of Washington, D. C.; a half-sister, Mrs. Sallie Payseur of Kings Mountain; and a half-brother, Will Baxter of Morganton.

...shown their belief that appointment rather than popular election is good for many purely administrative positions.

WHOLESOME — Sentiment around capital square as appraised by your reporter is that the present schedule of elective and appointive officers is just about right; but discussion of changes and proposals to increase or decrease the number of elected personnel stimulates interest in government and is therefore very much worthwhile.

BIG BOSS—The big boss of North Carolina will be on the job next week. The boss is not an individual, but is a composite of 170 members of the general assembly. If there is any doubt about who or what really runs the State of North Carolina, a brief study of the legislature will dispel it. The heads of departments, who the legislature is not in session, can ask for additional space or other convenience with reasonable assurance of getting it. The governor can request consideration with even more certainty of compliance. The legislature doesn't request it; it demands—and it gets what it wants.

COMPOSITE—Individual members of the general assembly sometimes go beyond the proprieties

Wedding Announced

BELMONT—Mrs. Jennie Payne Turner of Charlotte and William H. Crenshaw of Belmont were married Saturday morning, November 30, at 10 o'clock at Hawthorne Lane Methodist Church. The Rev. W. Jackson Huneycutt officiated, and John Langston, organist, presented the nuptial music.

Only members of the immediate families were present. The bride wore a navy pure silk faille costume with white accessories and a white hybrid orchid. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James R. Payne of Kings Mountain, and was a member of the staff of Mercy Hos-
