Answers to Questions

When was a person born?

Who are the parents?

File: Otto Baxter Payne

SUBJECT or GOAL: To determine Otto Baxter Payne's year of birth.

BACKGROUND SUMMARY

Otto Baxter Payne is believed to be the youngest child of James Robert Payne and Eva Georgia Baxter. Otto's gravestone states that he was born December 16, 1923¹. James' death certificate states that he died on January 23, 1923². If these two dates are correct, it is highly unlikely that James is Otto's father. If Otto was born in 1922 it would be possible for James to be his father.

RESTRICTIONS or LIMITATIONS

² "North Carolina Death Certificates, 1909-1975," database online, Ancestry.com (<http://www.ancestry.com> : accessed 8 Nov 2009), entry for James R Payne, death date 5 Jan 1923; citing North Carolina State Board of Health, Bureau of Vital Statistics, North Carolina Death Certificates; North Carolina State Archives, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Find: Looking Back on the Original Star Wars

Posted on December 18, 2015 by Trevor Hammond

A long time ago in newspapers far, far away....

When Star Wars (later retitled Star Wars Episode IV: A New Hope) was released in the United States on May 25, 1977, it was an immediate sensation. Show after show sold out, with many viewers returning to see the film more than once. It received near-universal praise from film critics as well and went on to break all kinds of records for box-office earnings, attendance, and length of run. It surpassed Jaws as the top-grossing film of all time and retained that title until 1982, when it was overtaken by ET, though it still remains one of the most financially successful films.

Search Tip #4: What types of locations are there?

Types of Locations

Lived in matches a residence event, such as a census location

Any event matches any location in the record

This screenshot shows a search interface with a dropdown menu open for the 'Any Event' selection. The dropdown lists the following options: Any Event, Birth, Death, Lived In, Marriage, Arrival, Departure, and Military. The 'Any Event' option is currently selected and highlighted in blue. To the right of the dropdown, there are input fields for 'Year' and '+/-' (set to 0), and a 'Location' field. Below these fields, there is an 'Exact' checkbox and a 'Use default settings' link. At the bottom, there are 'First Name' and 'Last Name' input fields.

This screenshot shows the same search interface as above, but with the 'Lived In' event type selected in the dropdown menu. The 'Any Event' option is no longer highlighted. The rest of the interface, including the 'Year', '+/-' (0), 'Location', 'Exact' checkbox, 'Use default settings' link, and 'First Name'/'Last Name' fields, remains the same.

About Maine Marriages, 1892-1996

This database is an index to Maine marriages that occurred between 1892 and 1996. However, it excludes the years 1967-76. Information provided in the index includes bride's name, bride's town and state of residence, groom's name, groom's town and state of residence, date of marriage, and marriage certificate number, if known. The index was created by the Maine Department of Human Services and obtained from the Maine State Archives. Requests for copies of marriage records from 1892-1922 should be sent to the Maine State Archives via e-mail. Marriage records dating after 1922 can be obtained from the Maine Department of Human Services, Office of Data Research and Vital Statistics by calling 207-287-3181 or mailing requests to 11 State House Station, Augusta, ME 04333. Constructing a Good Newspaper Search

What you need to know to construct a good search.

Newspaper searches are based on OCR technology – which means they are text searches.

It is more like a google search than a typical search on Ancestry.com or other genealogy site

Structured Search

In structured search engines when you search in a census, you can identify pieces of data:

- First Name: Otto
- Last Name: Payne
- Birth Date: 1923
- Residence: North Carolina

Non structured search

You want to search for the name

- Otto
- Payne

For dates, use a lifespan

- 1923 – 2010

And use papers or other documents from a place to limit location:

- Residence: North Carolina

little fishing boat, and at a given signal from Cole board the Michigan, while the officers were below at dinner, put on the hatches, and capture the man-of-war without the loss of a man. At the same instant a cannon discharged from the quarter deck was to notify the prisoners at Johnson's Island that the moment had come, and they were to rise immediately in insurrection. Their escape was to be covered by the captured Michigan, which was to shell the fort and federal quarters.

tives know the resting place of the missing ones. A complete and correct list of the prisoners buried at Johnson's Island has never been published, and, for the purpose of assisting friends in the South to locate dead comrades, the following, compiled from the report of the commissary-general of prisoners, is herewith subjoined. Several of the graves are marked "Unknown," but as far as possible the full names have been obtained and are now for the first time made public.

For many years the graves were only marked by rough, wooden headstones cut out and inscriptions carved upon them with jack-knives by comrades of the dead Confederates. Those letters were skilfully engraved and usually gave the name, rank, birth, and date of death; in fact, being the chief authority from which the official list was made up. A short time ago, however, a party of Georgia journalists visited the little cemetery, noted that the wooden headstones were fast going to decay, and, in order to rescue from oblivion the identity of their soldier dead, the newspapermen, upon their return home, raised by popular subscription in the South enough money to defray the expense of erecting a marble tombstone at the head of each grave. Only a few of the original wooden headboards are now in existence, and these are kept as souvenirs of the love that the soldiers bore for their dead friends.

The following is the list of graves:

J. E. Cruggs, colonel Eighty-fifth Virginia.

E. M. Tuggle, captain Thirty-fifth Georgia Infantry.

A. E. Upchurch, captain Fifty-fifth North Carolina Infantry.

J. P. Pedan, second lieutenant Hamilton's Battery.

Joel Barnett, lieutenant-colonel Ninth Battalion, Louisiana Cavalry.

William J. Hudson, lieutenant Second North Carolina Infantry.

D. E. Webb, captain First Alabama Cavalry.

J. W. Nullins, lieutenant First Mississippi Infantry.

FARTHEST AT GETTYSBURG.

An Alexander County Soldier Went Farthest in That Famous Charge.

We have a letter from an Alexander county man stating that an Alexander county soldier boy, Noah Logan by name, then only about 22 years old, a private in company H, 55th North Carolina Infantry, Davis' brigade, reached a point 25 yards further inside the Federal lines in Pickett's famous charge than any other confederate soldier, either officer or private, and returned alive. The state Roster credits Noah to Yadkin county, together with several other Alexander county boys. Alexander wants this corrected. Noah is still with us and says he

CHANCERY RECORDS INDEX

Chancery Records Index

Scanning in Progress:

Northampton County, 1747-1912
Patrick County, 1803-1912

The Chancery Records Index (CRI) is a result of archival processing and indexing projects overseen by the Library of Virginia (LVA) and funded, in part, by the Virginia Circuit Court Records Preservation Program (CCRP). Each of Virginia's circuit courts created chancery records that contain considerable historical and genealogical information. Because the records rely so heavily on testimony from witnesses, they offer a unique glimpse into the lives of Virginians from the early 18th century through the First World War.

The original court papers are flat-filed, indexed, and conserved using a set of standards developed by the LVA. Since the tri-folded records are often in poor condition, special attention is paid to preparing them for digital reformatting. This laborious process is undertaken so that the best quality images can be captured in one effort. The valuable original records are then retired to secure storage.

The reformatted images—whether digital scans or microfilm—can be viewed at the Library of Virginia, at the circuit court clerk's office, or, in the case of digital images, from any internet connected computer. The indexed but-not-yet-reformatted original records in the Library's care can be viewed in the Archives Research Room prior to reformatting. During reformatting, some or all of the original records may be unavailable for viewing; however, the full index will remain available for research purposes. Information is added to the CRI in such instances to alert researchers regarding a collection's availability.

There are over 233,000 cases indexed in the database and nearly 8 million images of chancery causes available online.

Selected Proceedings and Courts

Adoption records usually result from court processes, although there are three methods through which adoption can take place: (1) agreement without judicial proceedings, (2) agreement filed in a court of law and accompanied by court order, and (3) petition filed in a court of law and accompanied by a court order. The first method is not considered legally binding in most states today. Read more here.
